SCREEN MACHINE INDUSTRIES TO CELEBRATE 50 YEARS OF INNOVATION

ETNA, Ohio – Rugged. Reliable. Innovative. That’s what it takes to be the leader in the crushing and screening industry. It’s exactly what Screen Machine Industries has been doing for 50 years (1966-2016).

Screen Machine will mark its golden anniversary with a huge celebration on Thursday, June 23. According to President Steve Cohen, the occasion offers a moment to reflect on the previous 50 years of success, while also focusing on exciting new opportunities ahead.

“We are proud of the legacy we have built since my dad, Bernard Cohen, started this company in 1966,” said Cohen. “The difference has always been in the details. It’s about making our products more durable than they need to be, so they are the most reliable on the market. It’s about being innovative in design, as our numerous patents clearly illustrate.

“This is a tough business. Our machines can literally crush and size anything that comes out of the earth. That requires dependability and ingenuity. We are seeing a huge demand for our products all around the world, and we are poised to serve that need in a big way as we begin our next half century.”

Screen Machine products already can be found all around the globe. From Afghanistan to South Africa to the Far East and throughout North and South America, Screen Machine equipment is getting the job done. The product line includes three types of crushers, a variety of screening plants, and a selection of trommels and conveyors. Collectively, they can Crush Any Job™.

The secrets to the company’s success are not really secret at all:

- The most durable, USA-made Grade 80 steel is the foundation of many key components, backed by American quality, craftsmanship and patented innovation.
- Screen Machine partners with brand names like Caterpillar®, Dodge® and Precision® on our products, adding integrity and reliability to the entire line.
- Our dealer and customer support is the best in the business. We support what we sell for the life of the product.
